Philip MORTON: Dereham works better with Green Councillors

About me:

I have lived in Dereham for 30 years and have been a Town Councillor for the last 18 months.

I worked in Agriculture supplying a number of food factories. This has given me a good understanding of local economic life.

I have 3 grown up children who have all been to local Dereham schools.

As Chairman of Dereham society for a number of years, I have also been aware of local issues.

Why I want to be your councillor:

Ann Bowyer and Tim Birt, previous Green councillors and mayors of Dereham have provided balance to local politics. I am keen to continue offering an alternative viewpoint to our council by standing as a Green.

Reducing the impact of climate change is critical and I will press for this to be central to Breckland Local Plan and Dereham Neighbourhood Plan.

I aim to involve residents putting their needs above party politics, in order to change our area for the better.

You have three votes, please use one for me.
